Right to Revoke or Cancel an Authorization

You can sign an Authorization to give us permission to share your information with others, such as with your employer or a life insurance company. You can revoke (cancel) that permission at any time by going to the HIM website and submitting the Revocation of Authorization for Release of Information form. Once we have processed your revocation, we will no longer use or share your health information under the revoked Authorization. We cannot, however, take back information we have already shared.

Other State and Federal Laws Some state and federal laws require additional privacy protections for certain health information. For example, some states give unemancipated minors the legal right to consent to certain types of care and protects the privacy of those encounters, with specific exceptions. Other examples include:

How Your Information Is Used and Shared for Treatment We may use and share your health information to provide, coordinate, or manage your health care and related services, both with our own providers and with others involved in your care. Different personnel may also share your health information to coordinate the different things you need, such as prescriptions, lab work and X-rays. For example, a doctor treating you for a broken leg may need to know if you have diabetes so she can treat you properly and work with our dietitian so you can have low sugar meals. Our case manager will need to know about your diabetes so he can connect with other agencies to get you access to the proper resources after discharge. We may also share your information with a health registry so we can access information that may help us identify a different way to treat you. We may share and receive your health information from other providers, including within our system, to treat you.

Communicating With You We may use and share health information to contact you about treatment, care, or payment. For example, we may use your cell phone and email information to send you appointment reminders. We may also reach out to you for feedback about a recent visit or to see if you are feeling better. Unless you tell us otherwise, you agree we can send you reminders via phone calls, emails, text messages, or other means based on the information you have on file with us. If you send us unencrypted emails or texts, you understand there are security risks in doing so and you accept those risks.

For Payment We may use and share your health information with others to bill and collect payment for the services we provide to you, such as with billing departments, insurance companies, health plans and their agents, and consumer reporting agencies. We may also contact payors before you receive scheduled services, such as for pre-approval from your health plan or to confirm you qualify for coverage.

Treatment Alternatives We may use and share your health information to tell you about possible treatment options or alternatives that may be of interest. Note you are responsible for reviewing any additional terms of use may apply to apps or other tools that you use.

Business Associates Sometimes, we hire other people and companies known as business associates to help us perform services and manage operations. We may need to share your health information with these business associates so that they can perform their job for us. For example, we may hire healthcare monitoring companies, collection agencies, or medical directors. We require them to protect your health information and keep it confidential.

Individuals Involved in Your Care or Payment We may share your health information with a family member, personal representative, friend or other person you identify or who is involved in your care or payment. For example, if you bring a sibling to your appointment or have a friend pick you up from a procedure and you do not object to them hearing your medical information, then we can share relevant information with them. We could also tell your family how to care for you at home or share billing information if they are helping with your bills or covering your services. We may also share information to notify people involved in your care about your location, general condition or death. If you are unable to make decisions for yourself or it is an emergency, we will use our professional judgment to decide if it is in your best interest to share your health information with those involved in your care.

Authorization for Other Uses of Health Information Before we use or share your health information in a manner not covered by this Notice or required or permitted by applicable laws, we will ask for your written permission. For example, we will ask for your written permission to use or share psychotherapy notes, to use your health information for marketing purposes, or to share your information in a way that constitutes sale of health information. Note that we can remove or aggregate identifiers, so the information becomes anonymous and then use or share it without written permission.

Right to a Copy of Your Health Records You can ask for a copy of all or part of your medical record, though certain exceptions may apply. For example, if your doctor decides something in your record might endanger you or someone else, your request may be denied in whole or in part. To request a copy of your record, go to the HIM website and submit the Patient Request for Access form. In most cases, you will receive the information within 30 days of when we receive your request, unless we let you know we need another 30 days, such as if the are in storage.

Special Situations In certain situations, we may use or share your health information without your permission or without giving you a chance to object, including:

When Required by Law, such as to report gunshot wounds, communicable diseases, child abuse, or to make certain reports to state or federal agencies.

For Public Health Activities, such as to prevent or control disease, injury, or disability; report reactions or problems with medical products; report births or deaths; work with the CDC.

For Health Oversight Activities, such as to the state health regulators or the Center for Medicare/Medicaid Services.

For a Legal Proceeding, such as in response a court order, a warrant, or a legal proceeding.

To Law Enforcement and Correctional Institutions, such as in the event of certain crimes, missing persons, or other situations involving law enforcement or prisoners.

This policy has been established to help us serve you better.

It is necessary for us to make appointments in order to see our patients as efficiently as possible. No-shows and late-cancellations cause problems that go beyond a financial impact on our practice. When an appointment is made, it takes an available time slot away from another patient. No-shows and late-cancellations delay the delivery of healthcare to other patients.

A “no-show” is missing a scheduled appointment. A “late-cancellation” is canceling an appointment without calling us to cancel within 24 hours of an office appointment or 72 hours in advance of a procedure.

We understand that situations such as medical emergencies occasionally arise. These situations will be considered on a case by case basis.

A charge of $30.00 will be assessed for each no show or late cancellation office visit appointment if less than 24 hours notice is given.

Please understand that insurance companies consider this charge to be entirely the patient’s responsibility.

To cancel or reschedule an appointment please call Zen Psychiatric Services, PLLC 828-608-0892. This policy is in effect to ensure that all of our patients have the opportunity to be seen in a timely manner.

It is my understanding that my credit card on file will be charged $30.00 for each no show or late cancellation appointment. If no credit card is on file, I agree to be billed for the no show or late cancellation appointment. I am also aware that three no show or late cancellation events may constitute dismissal from this clinic.
